Plea For World Peace Keynotes 1970 Commencement Exercises

Degrees were conferred upon 408 Mary Washington College seniors in Commencement exercises at the College Sunday morning, June 7. The traditional ceremonies were held on the lawn of Mary Ball Hall on the campus before an audience of more than 2,500 parents, guests, alumnae and faculty members.

Climaxing a tumultuous year on college campuses, the ceremonies were dignified and orderly and projected a quiet plea for peace in a variety of ways.

As the program began Chancellor Greilet C. Simpson noted that some members of the graduating class had asked for and received the privilege of wearing white arm bands with their academic regalia in a symbolic plea for peace. About sixty seniors and several faculty members made their individual pleas in this manner.

The Chancellor added that those who chose not to wear the arm bands shared the same dedication and heartfelt desire for peace.

In a further departure from tradition, Chancellor Simpson called upon a member of the graduating class, Miss Kathleen S. O'Neill, to give the invocation. Miss O'Neill, the outgoing President of the Student Government Association, chose a passage from an address by the late Robert F. Kennedy calling upon the generation of the future to "make gentle the life of the world."

There was yet a third departure from the traditional ceremonies when Dr. Simpson declined to deliver a formal message to the seniors and instead asked them and those attending the exercises to join with him in offering a prayer for peace written by St. Francis of Assisi and given as the invocation for several years.

St. Francis, the Chancellor mused, must have been considered something of a revolutionary or radical in his day, for he willingly gave up success and material well being to dedicate his life to mankind. "I hope," he told the graduates, "that this prayer will be your message to all those you leave behind on this day of your graduation."

In receiving their diplomas there were 17 seniors who were awarded final honors and 43 who graduated with academic distinction. Final honors are presented to those graduates who maintain a 3.75 average or better during their junior and senior years at the College. General academic attainment is recognized through the awards of Distinction, High Distinction, and Highest Distinction, based solely on the student's academic average at Mary Washington College. In addition, 12 students received departmental honors for superior achievement in their major fields.

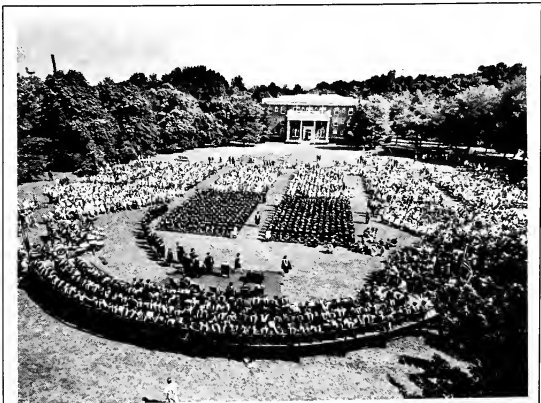

Darden Award Presented To Carol Peterson

Miss Carol Anne Peterson, a classics major from Colonial Heights, Virginia, was named the 1970 recipient of the Darden Award, which goes each year to the member of the graduating class with the highest academic average.

The daughter of Col. and Mrs. C. D. Peterson of Colonial Heights, Miss Peterson compiled a 3.93 grade point average during her four years at Mary Washington College.

The award was established in 1960 in honor of Colgate W. Darden, Jr., who was president of the University of Virginia from 1947 to 1959. It consists of a medal designed by Gaetano Cecere, formerly a faculty member at the College, and also a cash sum.

In addition to receiving the top academic award, Miss Peterson also received final honors, honors in classics, and was graduated with highest distinction. As a student at Mary Washington College, she was a member of Eta Sigma Phi, national honorary classics fraternity and Alpha Phi Sigma, national honorary scholastic fraternity.

MWC Commencement, 1970

DISTINGUISHED ALUMNA, 1970

Mrs. Margaret Lodge Copes, a member of the Class of 1932, has been named the recipient of the Mary Washington College Alumnae Association's Distinguished Alumna Award for 1970.

The fourth recipient of the award initiated in 1966, she was honored at the annual homecoming weekend earlier this month and presented with an engraved silver platter to commemorate her selection.

The award is made each year to an alumna who, in the opinion of her fellow alumnae, has made an outstanding contribution in such areas as their profession, civic activities, creative contributions in the arts or sciences, or humanitarian causes. Selection by the Awards Committee is based upon accomplishment in one or several of these areas.

A resident of Davis Wharf in Accomack County on Virginia's Eastern Shore Mrs. Copes is currently serving as chairman of the State Hospital Board, which oversees the operation of the State's mental hospitals. Named to the Board by Governor Albertus S. Harrison in 1962, she was the first woman to serve on the Board and when named chairman last year she became the first woman so named. In addition, she has been named a member of the Governor's Council on Health in Virginia.

The mother of two daughters and a son, she has been owner and operator of The Copes Ice and Coal Company in Tasley, Virginia, since the death of her husband, Peter Davis Copes, in 1961.

Long active in the civic affairs of her local community, Mrs. Copes last year was presented the First Citizen's Award by the Eastern Shore Jaycees. It was the first time a woman had been named recipient of the award presented by the chapter only when it feels there is a citizen in the community who merits the recognition.

Mrs. Copes is currently a member of the Board of Directors of the Salvation Army, a member of the state Board of Sponsors of the Children's Home Society of Virginia, and a member of the Board of Directors of the Society for Crippled Children of Virginia.

As an alumna of Mary Washington College, Mrs. Copes has formerly served as President of the Association and as a member of the Board of Directors and the Executive Committee. She is also a founder, and former director and president of Eastern Shore Chapter of the Association.

Previous recipients of the Distinguished Alumna Award include Mrs. Aileen Hirschman Belford '53, in 1966; Miss Clara Boyd Wheeler '31, in 1967; and Catherine Dryden August '37, in 1969. No award was made in 1968.

Summer Session Features Institutes

Humanities: For the Students

Mary Washington College will be the site of a unique summer project aimed at introducing high school students to the humanities and the world of creativity.

Called the Humanities Institute, the program is planned by the nearby Stafford County School Division and funded by the federal government under Title III of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act.

Approximately 75 academically talented high school students from Stafford County will participate in the six weeks session. In addition, some 100 students from other parts of the state will attend the opening three-weeks segment of the program under the auspices of the Virginia Commission of the Arts and Humanities.

Both parts of the program will be directed by Mrs. Laura V. Sumner, Professor and Chairman of the Department of Classics and Director of the Summer Session at the College. Mrs. Sumner directed a similar program for the Fairfax County schools in 1965.

Entitled "Exploring Creative Frontiers," the program is designed to help encourage creativity and a continuing interest in cultural activities. The summer institute at MWC is one of eight projects to be funded by the federal government over a three year period.

The session will include discussions, lectures, and opportunities for creative activities in the various arts. Field trips to galleries and museums or to hear orchestras or see dramatic productions will supplement the on-campus activities.

Teachers from the Stafford County School system will staff the county portion of the program, while MWC faculty members will be used as consultants and for special activities in both sections of the Institute.

The announcement of the Institute was well received, both in the county and throughout the state. Total applications in both cases far exceeded the number of spaces available for the summer session.

History: For the Teachers

Mary Washington College, in cooperation with the School of General Studies of the University of Virginia, is offering a six-weeks Institute for Teachers of American History this summer for history teachers from Fredericksburg and the surrounding counties.

Twenty-four history teachers from area schools have been selected to attend the Institute which will run from June 22 to July 31. Tuition expenses for those invited to attend will be assumed by the Virginia State Department of Education.

Recognizing the need for continual upgrading and revitalization of courses in American history being taught in the state's secondary schools, two-thirds of the institute time will be devoted directly to two integrated courses in twentieth-century American history, while the remaining third of the course will be devoted to a review of recent thinking in the area of social studies curricular and materials.

There will be three formal course offerings at the Institute: Twentieth-Century History of the United States; Methods, Sources and Materials of History; and Theoretical Foundations for Teaching History and Social Studies. Each course will carry three undergraduate or graduate credits and each student will take all three courses. Undergraduate credit for the work will be available to all; graduate credit will be accorded to those who meet criteria for admission to the Graduate Program of the School of General Studies of the University of Virginia.

Alumnae Council Schedules Fall Convention

The Annual Convention of the MWC Alumnae Council will be held at the College sometime in the fall, probably the third Saturday in October or early in November. A definite date will be announced in the next Alumnae News.

The meeting will be open to voting delegates from each chapter and class. All interested alumnae are urged to attend. Others attending will include members of the faculty, administration and student body.

The purpose of the Council is to coordinate the activities of chapters; to serve as a forum for discussion of Association projects and policies, and to formulate and submit recommendations to the Board of Directors, and to further understanding between the alumnae and the College.

Chicago Meeting

The next meeting of the Chicago Area Alumnae Chapter will be Thursday, October 8, at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Robert C. Warren (Mary Cottingham '30), 126 Oak Road, North Barrington, Illinois 60060.

Alumnae Association Establishes College's First Endowed Chair

The Mary Washington College Alumnae Association has established an "endowed chair" fund, which will be used to bring eminent scholars or personalities to Mary Washington for teaching and lecturing.

It is the first endowed position at the College and plans call for the implementation of the proposal on a limited basis during the 1970-71 school session.

The action is the realization of a goal set by the Association in 1965 when it initiated the Quest XX insurance program with the hope of building a sufficient fund to endow a faculty position. The Quest XX fund now has $64,000 in policies which is not enough in itself to support an endowment. As a result of the project, however, a special ad hoc committee was organized to consider other alternatives and on the basis of its recommendation the Association voted to initiate the project now on a limited basis.

The recipient will be known as the Distinguished Visitor in Residence and the first endowment will be presented in honor of Eileen Kramer Dodd, Professor of Psychology who retires this year, and her husband, the late James Harvey Dodd, who was a Professor of Economics and Business Administration at the College for 34 years.

In acting upon the recommendation of the ad hoc committee composed of Ruby York Weinbrecht '48, Elaise E. Clark '51, Myrtle Dean Frances '62, Jane Howard Patrick '48; and Ann Louise Perincheff '67, the Director of Alumnae Affairs, and Michael Houston, Assistant to the Chancellor, the Association's Board of Directors expressed the feeling that it would be desirable to begin immediately to make an annual contribution to the intellectual life of the College, even on a limited basis. As more funds become available an expanded program will be considered.

As approved by the Board, specific arrangements will be worked out after the individual has been selected. Consideration will be given his field of endeavor and the role which is believed will provide the most desirable and effective stimulation to the academic life of the College.

As a means of arousing interest in the program and to assure maximum participation by all members of the College community, the Board proposed that the selection of the Visitors be the joint responsibility of a Student-Faculty-Alumnae Selection Committee. This Committee will be organized in the near future and the search for the first recipient will get underway.

College Fees, Salaries Increased for 1970-71

The University of Virginia Board of Visitors has approved increases in student fees and faculty salaries at Mary Washington College for the 1970-71 school session.

Acting on the recommendation of Mary Washington Chancellor Grellert C. Simpson, the Board, meeting in Charlottesville earlier this month, confirmed a fee increase which had earlier been proposed in a letter to all students and their parents. The increase totals $60 for Virginia students and $115 for students who are not residents of the Commonwealth. It brings the total costs for Virginia students to $1470 and for out-of-state students to $2225. Ten dollars of the income will go toward faculty salaries while the remainder will provide funds for the operation of the educational program of the College.

In acting upon faculty salaries the Board accepted two recommendations from Chancellor Simpson involving the faculty pay scale and approved his proposal that additional adjustments be considered in the fall if the budget situation at that time will permit such a move.

The action Friday set a $100 annual increase for all members of the faculty and established a change in the existing scale by dropping the bottom step in each of the five academic ranks and adding a step to the top of each category. This, in effect, gives assistant instructors, instructors, and assistant professors normal merit increases of $300 plus the $100 overall raise, and associate professor and professors will receive $400 merit increments plus the $100 overall payment.

Instructional salary averages are established by the Governor's office for each institution of higher education in Virginia. The overall figure for 1970-71 at Mary Washington College was set at $11,900. Chancellor Simpson indicated that although $10 of the fee increase was specifically earmarked for faculty pay, it was still impossible to meet the recommended average. He did indicate, however, that he was hopeful that the budget reappraisal in October would reveal sufficient income from the student fees to bring the College's pay structure closer to the figure authorized by the Governor.

In the revised scales faculty salaries will range from $7,100 to $15,500, compared to a range of $6,700 to $15,000 for the current school year. The revision marks the twelfth time in the last fifteen years that faculty salaries at the College have been adjusted.

As in the past, the figures are for a ten-month period from September to June and do not include salaries for faculty members teaching the summer session.

In asking for the fee increases Chancellor Simpson noted that the 1970 General Assembly provided little improvement for operating funds for the College for the 1970-72 biennium. The funds appropriated for 1970-71, he stated, are actually less than the budgeted level of expenditures for the educational program for 1969-70.

RUBY YORK WEINBRECHT NAMED TO HEAD ALUMNAE

Mrs. Ruby York Weinbrecht '48 has been elected President of the Mary Washington College Alumnae Association for 1970-71. She succeeds Mrs. Kathy Friedman Levinson '63 who has served as President since 1968.

A native of Spartanburg, South Carolina, Mrs. Weinbrecht served this past year as Fund Chairman for the Association and has been a member of the Board of Directors for two years.

She is currently employed by the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission in Washington, D.C., and resides in McLean, Virginia, with her husband Mr. Standau Weinbrecht. She has previously served in an editorial capacity with the Department of Commerce and with the Library of Congress.

In addition to a B.A. degree received from Mary Washington, Mrs. Weinbrecht holds an M.A. degree from George Peabody College and has done post-graduate work at the Graduate Library School of the University of Chicago.

Other officers named at the meeting which coincided with homecoming on June 5-7 were Ellen Duschack '64, first vice president (fund); Isabel Gordon '62, second vice president (homecoming); and Olivia Wheeler McCallum '36, third vice president (Alumnae Council).

Named to serve as the Chancellor's Apptee was Mrs. Irene Luody Brown '39, succeeding Mrs. Arabelle Laws Arrington '41. Miss Mary Ellen Stephenson, Professor and Chairman of the Department of Modern Foreign Languages, was renamed faculty representative and Miss Patricia Ives Stoner will serve as the senior class representative.

Newly elected members of the Board of Directors include Lucy Houston Christian '26; Sally Monroe Fox '68; Carol Pridgeon Gill '57, Susan Rohn Jaehnk '63, and Sally Kay Souder '66.

Departing members of the Board include Judith Finger Bradley '64, Elaise Elizabeth Clark '51, Adele Crowgley Giles '37, Ethel Hester Nash '14, and Dorothy Booth Sanders '55.

Molly Parrish '27 Named to Chair MWC Committee

Mrs. Molly Vaughan Parrish, a member of the Class of '29 and a member of the University of Virginia Board of Visitors since 1964 has been named Chairman of the Mary Washington College Committee of the Board of Visitors for the coming year.

Board members named to the MWC Committee for the first time include Brownie E. Polly, Jr. and Donald E. Santarelli, who were appointed to the Board in February by Governor Linwood Holton, and C. Waller Barrett.

Renamed to the Committee for another term were Mrs. Emma Ziegler Brown, a member of the Class of '40, and Richard S. Cross.

Honors, Achievement Mark 1969-70 Session

Miss Erla Catherine Holloway, a rising senior at Mary Washington College, was one of twenty students named to take part in Governor Linwood Holton's new summer programs for interns in government.

The students, representing thirteen colleges and six high schools, were selected from approximately 350 applicants from throughout the state. In addition to serving this summer, the interns will form the nucleus of the Youth Advisory Council announced by Governor Holton in April.

Miss Holloway is an English major at MWC and a graduate of George Wythe High School in Richmond. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Holloway, Jr., of Richmond.

The idea behind the summer program is to give a representative cross-section of Virginia youth first hand exposure to the operation and organization of state government.

The Youth Council will have the two-fold purpose of opening channels of communication between the state government and Virginia's youth and of giving the youth of the state a means to participate in the solution of problems about which they are concerned.

The list of 20 was selected from applications submitted in response to a letter to all student government presidents in the state asking them to make recommendations from their schools.

The Mary Washington College student newspaper, THE BULLET, was named the best women's college newspaper in the Sixth Annual Southeastern College Newspaper Competition conducted by Hollins College earlier this year.

In addition to receiving this honor awarded by THE ROANOKE TIMES, the weekly newspaper also received THE NORFOLK VIRGINIAN-PILOT and LEDGER STAR awards for the best editorial page and received honorable mention for the best feature writing award which is presented by the CHARLESTON GAZETTE and SUNDAY GAZETTE-MAIL.

The annual competition is open to all colleges and universities in the six-state area including Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, West Virginia, and Georgia.

Attending the awards banquet in Roanoke to accept the awards were Barbara Halliday of Wilmington, Delaware, editor of THE BULLET during the second semester this year and Anne Gordon Grever of Richlands, Virginia, editor the first semester.

A senior student and a distinguished 1968 alumna of Mary Washington College presented papers before the Chemistry Section of the Virginia Academy of Science in Richmond on May 7th and 8th.

Anne L. Bates, senior chemistry major discussed her research, which was directed by Dr. Bernard L. Mahoney, Associate Professor of Chemistry, concerning the composition of Rappahannock River water as part of a larger study of the ecology of the river being undertaken with the cooperation of several departments at the College.

Ann Scott Lankey, winner of the 1968 Darden Medal and Thomas Jefferson Cup, reported on research concerning the structure of some lipids in milk. This work was done under the supervision of Dr. Lawrence Wisner, Department Chairman, as a senior honors project and involved the use of rattlesnake venom as a selective reagent in the structural studies. Mrs. Lankey is presently on leave from the A. H. Robins Co. to complete her M.S. in chemistry at VPI.

This was the fifth consecutive year the Chemistry Department has been represented in the research program of the Academy making a total of twelve papers presented during the period.

Miss Elizabeth Jane Wilson, a junior chemistry major at Mary Washington College, has been awarded a fellowship to attend the Argonne National Laboratory Honors Program at Argonne, Illinois.

Operated jointly by the University of Chicago and the Atomic Energy Commission, Argonne National Laboratory conducts basic scientific research in many broad areas including radiation chemistry, nuclear chemistry, and high energy physics.

Miss Wilson was one of thirty students from the fields of physics, chemistry, and the life sciences selected in national competition among college and universities for participation in this program.

The honors program begins in September, 1970, and continues for fifteen weeks, approximately half of which is devoted to research and the remainder to lectures and seminars. Miss Wilson's research will involve a low temperature study of the effect of high energy radiation on liquids.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Holt Wilson of Delmar, Delaware, Miss Wilson is a graduate of Delmar High School.

Two Mary Washington College students have been selected to participate in the 1970-71 Sweet Briar Junior Year in France.

Admitted to the program were Miss Carol Jean Hazucha, a history major from Upper Nyack, New York, and Miss Christine Anne Stover, a French major from Falls Church, Virginia. Miss Hazucha, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Hazucha, is a graduate of Nyack High School, Nyack, New York. Miss Stover, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis W. Stover, is a graduate of J. E. B. Stuart High School.

The two are among 100 students from 50 colleges and universities who have been admitted to this educational program which has been administered by Sweet Briar College since 1948.

After arriving in France next September, the students will spend six weeks in Tours, provincial capital of the chateau district, for orientation to French academic methods and social customs. Late in October they will enroll in the winter term at the University of Paris and affiliated institutions. In both cities they will live with French families.

CHRONOLOGY:

Following is a chronology and description of the events that occurred at Mary Washington College after President Nixon reported U.S. military involvement in Cambodia on April 30, and the deaths of four students at Kent State University in Ohio on May 4.

May 1—Mary Washington College Student Association President Marilyn Morgan endorsed a demand for the impeachment of President Nixon made by the National Student Association. In doing so, however, Miss Morgan stated that she gave her support as an individual and not as a representative of the student body. Miss Mary Lee Hearn, NSA representative from the College, said that the call for impeachment was a symbolic maneuver. The MWC student newspaper, The Bullet, editorially endorsed the impeachment effort on May 4.

May 4—Between three and five hundred students, faculty, townspeople, and others rallied in the evening on Ball Circle to discuss the extension of U.S. military activity into Cambodia. Students began to lay plans for the week's activities. Some indicated they planned to boycott classes for the rest of the week and spend the time instead on protest activities. They indicated that this was to be a personal decision and that no effort would be made to force the strike on students who did not wish to participate.

Other students attended the gathering to say that they opposed the strike and that they would take legal action against professors who did not hold classes and against the State if their rights to an education were jeopardized by the protest.

May 5—The first in a series of panel discussions on Cambodia and Southeast Asia was held, followed by a memorial service for the students killed at Kent State University.

Plans and preparations were made to picket Mrs. Nixon who was scheduled to visit Kenmore and the James Monroe Law Office in Fredericksburg the following day. Protesters planned to march at both historic sites and to present a petition to Mrs. Nixon expressing their concern over the war in Southeast Asia. In preparation for the demonstration, a student screening committee was set up to establish dress regulations for the march and to approve the wording on signs to be carried. Local police officials issued the group a parade permit.

A group opposed to the protest indicated that they would urge Mrs. Nixon to cancel the visit. Late in the afternoon the White House announced that Mrs. Nixon was cancelling her visit because "she understands that demonstrations are a possibility in the local community regardless of her presence."

May 6—About 25 MWC students and local youths staged a peaceful march to the main Post Office (which houses the area Draft Board) in Fredericksburg and picketed briefly without incident before returning to the campus.

A contingent of seven MWC students active in the protest movement met with State Delegate Benjamin H. Woodbridge, Jr., to discuss the protest and his objections to it. Mr. Woodbridge had earlier stated that those students and faculty members demonstrating at Mrs. Nixon's visit should be dismissed and he wrote to Governor Linwood Holton asking for an investigation of the administrations of every tax payer-operated college or university in Virginia.

About 300 students signed a letter to Mrs. Nixon apologizing and expressing their regrets that she found it necessary to cancel her visit to Fredericksburg. The letter, circulated by the Young Americans for Freedom, was intended to express the feelings of the students over her cancellation regardless of their views on the President's decision concerning Cambodia.

Petitions in opposition to the Cambodian intervention were circulated in the local community and additional panel discussions were held on the campus.

May 7—A rock concert was held in the amphitheatre on the campus to raise money to support a planned march in Washington to attend the mass rally on Saturday, May 9.

Panel discussions, the circulation of petitions and other protest activities continued.

May 8—Del. Woodbridge publicly objected to the use of the amphitheatre for the purpose of raising money to support the anti-war protest.

Some 40 students began a march to Washington and the protest rally scheduled there the next day. The march proceeded up U.S. Route 1 to Alexandria, where the students were accommodated and fed by residents of Hollin Hills Subdivision.

Leaflets calling for communitywide consideration, not only of the political implications, but of the deeper moral issues of war and the U.S.'s involvement in Cambodia were distributed to local churches. Several ministers indicated that the leaflets were passed on to the appropriate persons and that discussions were planned in young adult Sunday School classes.

May 9—About 140 students and several faculty members participated in the Washington, D.C., protest rally. There were no incidents involving either students or faculty members.

May 13—The MWC faculty rejected by a narrow margin a student proposal to lift requirements on class attendance and final examinations for the semester in order that those who wished to do so could devote the time to activities for or against the protest.

May 14—MWC faculty members reviewed current policies and procedures which would allow students to continue national political involvement and approved two additional alternatives for the same purpose.

The two approved measure allowed the students to change grading in an elective course to pass-fail and extended the cut-off date for dropping a course if a student had a passing grade.

Protest at MWC

COMMENT:

MWC Chancellor Grellet C. Simpson said he was distressed that Mrs. Nixon did not come. He had hoped that she would come since "the girls themselves... would have treated her with respect" even though some students do not agree with her husband's views.

The girls had tried to make it a dignified protest," he said. They wanted to show that you can protest and not be rowdy, he said. He had been reassured that it would not be ugly or discourteous.

Simpson indicated he felt that there must be reasons other than the MWC student protest for cancelling the trip

The Kenmore Association, which owns and operates Kenmore—the colonial home Mrs. Nixon had planned to visit—called the threatened picketing of the President's wife a "travesty on the American way of life."

A resolution passed by the association, expressing "to the nation our sorrow and concern", that Mrs. Nixon was unable to come to Kenmore Wednesday as scheduled because the threatened demonstration, declared:

"It is very distressing to us that we were unable to receive the wife of the President of the United States at Kenmore, the ancestral home of Col. Fielding Lewis and Betty Washington Lewis, the only sister of George Washington, the first president of the United States.

"Because Kenmore stands to teach all ages the loyalty, sense of duty and love of country shown by our forefathers, we feel very strongly that this is a travesty on the American way of life and should be so proclaimed."

Del. Benjamin H. Woodbridge, Jr. today said he is writing Gov. Linwood Holton "urging that he appoint a commission to investigate the administration of every taxpayer-operated college or university in Virginia."

Woodbridge said he would suggest "this commission make recommendations for changes which will assure the taxpayers of Virginia that their money is not being squandered on educational facilities for those who come not to learn but to undermine the very educational system which provides them sanctuary and a forum for their childish rantings."

"The reputation of our city and our area has been severely damaged by the vocal, immature and shabby minority at Mary Washington College whose action forced the cancellation of Mrs. Nixon's visit."

"It appears to me that we have at Mary Washington the same kind of situation as in other places such as Yale, Harvard and Berkeley—a weak-willed administration too timid to take positive and forceful action to see that its students are subject to discipline of a reasonable nature."

*The Free Lance-Star

Fredericksburg Mayor Josiah P. Rowe, III, said he felt there had been "an unfortunate overreaction in the community" to threatened demonstrations by Mary Washington College students when Mrs. Richard Nixon was supposed to visit the city recently. He said he felt it was "regrettable" that the visit had to be cancelled since "there was no way of knowing at the time how much of a demonstration was planned." He said he felt the students planning the demonstration were doing everything possible to keep it peaceful and orderly.

"We have no real problem at Mary Washington College, as far as I'm concerned," said Rowe, although a better dialogue between students, faculty, the administration and the community might be desirable.

As another Mary Washington College Class prepares to graduate, one's thoughts turn back to the episodes of a month and a year ago, two incidents that help explain why so many of the nation's youth feel a sense of alienation.

Last year when Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, then director of Selective Service, was to make a speech in the Fredericksburg area a group of MWC students announced their intention to picket the Hershey speech in a protest against the Vietnam war and what they viewed as inequities in the draft.

The Hershey appearance was cancelled—by local persons connected with the dinner, not by Hershey who has seen so many demonstrations that one more wouldn't have ruffled his feathers. In the wake of the cancellation came all kinds of vituperation directed against the MWC students who dared to try to exercise their constitutional rights.

(For the record let it be noted that Hershey is no longer draft director and the draft has been modified, thanks in large part to the attention the nation's young people focused on the issue.)

Just a month ago a visit to Fredericksburg by Mrs. Richard Nixon was cancelled. It was called off apparently because of antiwar meetings that were taking place at the college and a proposal by a group of Mary Washington students to present to Mrs. Nixon a petition protesting the widening of the Indochina war.

There has never been a moment of violence in connection with any of the recent demonstrations at MWC or any of the minor protests staged in the city by the students. One can only wonder what the reasons were for the cancellation of the Pat Nixon visit: Mary Washington College's history of non-violence and the dignity with which the students have conducted their demonstrations certainly didn't warrant saying to the First Lady, "Don't come."

When the Pat Nixon visit was cancelled, again came the vituperation. And among the loud-mouth complainers conveniently overlooked the fact that the college students were asking only the privilege of exercising their constitutional rights.

(At a White House tea Thursday two young mothers gave Mrs. Nixon a note asking her help in persuading her husband to end the Indochina war; the world didn't end.)

"Work within the system!" We tell our young people. And then when a group of them at MWC proposes to work within the system they are subjected to scathing verbal attacks. No wonder many young people are discouraged these days.

At a time when violence and turmoil has overtaken many of the nation's college campuses, Fredericksburg should be proud of Mary Washington College and its students whose protests have been peaceful.

March on Washington

CROUSHORE NAMED DEAN OF COLLEGE

Dr. James H. Croushore, a member of the Mary Washington College faculty and staff since 1947, has been named Dean of the College, succeeding Dr. Reginald W. Whidden who retires prior to the 1970-71 school session.

Dr. Croushore, who was named to the post in April by Chancellor Grellert C. Simpson, has been Associate Dean of the College since 1967 and served as Chairman of the Department of English for ten years prior to that.

A member of Phi Beta Kappa, he earned A.B. and A.M. degrees from Lehigh University and holds a Ph.D. degree from Yale University. He is a member of Pi Delta Epsilon, and the Modern Language Association.

Before coming to Mary Washington College, Dr. Croushore taught at Mount Union College, Carnegie Institute of Technology, and Lehigh University. As a member of Phi Beta Kappa he served as chairman of the steering committee at Mary Washington which has submitted a petition for a chapter at the College.

In announcing Dr. Croushore's appointment as Dean of the College, Mary Washington Chancellor Grellert C. Simpson said that an Assistant Dean would be announced at a later date.

Dr. Whidden, who has served as Dean of the College since 1967, is retiring upon completion of 27 years service, having joined the faculty as a Professor of English in 1943. He was named Assistant Dean in 1954 and elevated to Associate Dean in 1960, prior to succeeding Dr. Edward Alvey, Jr. as Dean of the College in 1967.

Vicky Floyd '70 Wins Summer Internship

Miss Victoria Ann Floyd '70 has been selected by the United States Civil Service Commission to participate in the Washington Summer Intern program for college students. She is one of four-hundred students selected from more than 1,400 nominees from 600 of the nation's colleges and universities.

Those selected will spend the summer working in one of the federal agencies in Washington, D.C. Selections were made primarily on the basis of matching individual backgrounds, abilities, and fields of study to the requirements of the positions to be filled. Miss Floyd has been assigned to work in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

A political science major, Miss Floyd is the daughter of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Harry A. Floyd of Arlington, Virginia. She is a graduate of Washington and Lee High School in Arlington. At Mary Washington College, Miss Floyd was a member of Mortar Board, national senior honor society, and served this year as editor of THE BATTLEFIELD, the college yearbook.

Earlier this year, Miss Floyd received honorable mention in the national Woodrow Wilson Fellowship competition, and in 1968 she was accorded Intermediate Honor by the College, signifying an overall "A" average at Mary Washington during her freshman and sophomore years.

Following graduation in June and the completion of the summer internship, Miss Floyd will attend graduate school.

Rare Book Gifts Honor Departing Administrators

The Mary Washington College Alumnae Association, with an anonymous friend of the College, has presented a number of rare books to E. Lee Trinkle Library in honor of three departing administrative officials of the College.

Honored were Reginald W. Whidden, retiring Dean of the College; Edgar E. Woodward, retiring Comptroller; and Emily A. Holloway, resigning Director of Student Affairs.

Presented in honor of Dr. Whidden was James Boswell's The Life of Samuel Johnson, L. L. D. printed in London in 1791 with Additions and Corrections issued in 1793. The two-volume set is a first edition of the greatest biography written in English.

Commemorating Mr. Woodward's retirement was the presentation of The American Drawings of John White 1577-1590 with Drawings of European and Oriented Subjects edited by Paul Hope Holtz and David Beers Quinn and printed in London, in 1964. This two-volume set is the first edition of the collected drawings and paintings by John White, leader of the "Lost Colony" Expedition and grandfather of Virginia Dare, first child born in English North America. The pictures are the first of the Indians and natural life of what was then Virginia and is now North Carolina.

Presented in honor of Mrs. Holloway was Designs for the Pavilion at Brighton Humbly Inscribed to His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales by Humphrey Repton and his sons, J. A. Repton and G. S. Repton. This first edition, printed in London in 1808 is considered a major work in the history of English landscape architecture.

TJ CUP WINNER

Miss Marilyn Louise Preble, an American Studies major from Leesburg, Virginia, was named the 1970 recipient of the Thomas Jefferson Cup, awarded each year by the Mary Washington College Alumnae Association.

The award goes to that member of the senior class who, during her years at Mary Washington College, has distinguished herself by academic achievement and outstanding service to the College.

The annual presentation was initiated in 1944 to commemorate the affiliation of Mary Washington College with the University of Virginia.

Miss Preble, who plans to attend law school next year, is a graduate of Loudoun County High School and the daughter of Col. and Mrs. Merle Preble of Leesburg. Named to WHO'S WHO AMONG STUDENTS IN AMERICAN COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES this year, she is a dean's list student and has been an active participant in the affairs of the College.

As a sophomore she served as a student member on the ad hoc committee charged with considering and planning the College's shift to a five-year week. Last year, she served on the Faculty Student Committee on Latin American Studies, and this most recent school year she was one of three students who served on the ad hoc Committee on Curriculum, Degree Requirements and Student Course Load.

Emeritus Status Accorded Retirees

Four retiring members of the Mary Washington College faculty have been elected to the rank of Professor Emeritus.

Accorded the honor by the University of Virginia Board of Visitors were Miss Guendolyn A. Beeler, Mrs. Eileen K. Dodd, Mr. Reginald W. Whidden, and Mr. Edgar E. Woodward.

In order to be eligible for Emeritus status, a faculty member must have served the College for at least fifteen years and retire while holding the rank of professor. Those honored have accumulated a total of 123 years of service at the college.

The spring issue of the MWC Bulletin carried a nice article on Mrs. Nina C. Bushnell. Mrs. Bushnell was a strong believer in decency and order and felt that students came to college to acquire knowledge and not to educate the faculty. Most of us felt better when our daughters were under her supervision.

Lucy Kennedy Boyle—Enjoying good health and looking forward to the celebration of her Golden Wedding Anniversary in June.

Had a note from Anne Nicholas who came lately through "Camille" and says she is coming up this way soon.

Lettie Broadus retired a good many years ago but she is a very active life. She writes very interestingly of tours she has made of the U.S. and her many activities in life, including a strong liking and ability for gardening.

Alice Chillinge Chowning writes that she is still enjoying life and is planning to attend the 1970 Homecoming.

Anne Lettow Ware Bedinger is summing at her home on the Rappahannock, enjoying her grandchildren, and making plans to attend this year's Homecoming, as she has done for seven years past.

We haven't heard from Julia Railroad Urquhart recently but understand that she will be at the Homecoming.

Fannie Tyree Knocks still at the Louisa Health Center. She feels well, feels well, contributes regularly to the MWC Alumnae Fund, has frequent visits from various ones of the many students who has taught in past years, many of whom say that "she is the best teacher they ever had", and enjoys life despite her disability.

We wrote members of our class last spring regarding personal news about them and suggesting contributions to the Alumnae Fund. We received several interesting letters and we understand that the response to our request for Fund donations was excellent.

Does any one know the married last name of Winnie Walker? She is supposed to be in Richmond but we do not have her address. Perhaps Buford Lyne or One Orreos can help out.

Again we ask you to send in a few lines, or more, of news about you and yours. It helps very much in getting up this column, which we hope that you enjoy reading. One of the younger alumnae wrote that she enjoyed the 13 column because it indicated "that we were not, and yet a bunch of doddling old ladies waiting for the sun to go down".

Write to either one of us, but let us hear from you.

Dear "Girls":

A nice letter from Margaret Sayre Ransome gave me news on several girls—thank you, Margaret. Muriel Barber is now in a nursing home. She lost her sister, Beryl Willis last March. Our sympathy to Muriel and other survivors. Muriel enjoyed a visit from Frances Howard Robb, a very close friend, who came to attend Beryl's funeral.

Mary Temple Callesman Theimer and husband had a visit with Margaret Sayre. Mary Temple was recuperating from a serious operation. Do hope that by June she can recover and attend our 55th reunion.

See Lynch had written Margaret of illness and sadness of self and family. We hope Tee will be with us in June.

Margaret and Joe LaCrosee Rankin had planned a trip to see Edna I hope they could go. Edna Gaby Hunter lost her sister on April 3, 1970. She had been ill for months and Edna had stayed close by her. Our sympathy is for Edna in her sorrow.

Enjoyed Lettie Broadus Moore's phone call. Her interests are many. She had won several blue ribbons at a flower show given by her garden club. Congratulations! Lettie was also going on a tour of Williamsburg during Garden Week. She had heard from the Tyers. All was well with them. They enjoyed good health but had to curtail some activities. Their lives had been saddened by the death of many relatives and friends. A joyful note, however, was a visit from a nephew in Tokyo, Japan. Their home city of Raleigh, North Carolina was aglow this spring with daffodils, pink and white dogwoods. I am sure all our class will be distressed to hear of a recent extensive robbery of "Snuggly". Lettie's country home in Essex County, many heirlooms and antiques were missing and can never be reclaimed.

Elsie Wood Rice visited relatives in Springfield, Virginia recently. Elsie has really enjoyed her retirement. I thought as much from her long letters.

During Garden Week I enjoyed a tour to homes in historic Hanover and Caroline Counties with my daughter and a friend of hers from Richmond.

I have just returned from a trip to Roanoke and Bluefield, Virginia. It was very restful and everything spoke of spring. The mountains are such an inspiration. Chatted with Mabel Craig, Lillian's sister, while in Roanoke. She keeps busy cataloging books of service her church library. Likes to be of service. Was doing well and in good spirits. Had a nice visit with Lucy Falls at her home in Bluefield while in the area. We shared many pleasant memories together and I was glad of the opportunity to visit with her again.

I lost my favorite and only sister-in-law this spring after a month's illness.

Beulah Detweiler Anderson has responded to my letter sent from the office concerning the reunion in June. Hope I have many more messages. Always a joy to hear from them.

By the time this news reaches you we will have had our 55th reunion. Some girls are yet lively and active.

Love,
Ruth

A nice note from Elizabeth Smith Hutchinson told me that her granddaughter, Lorelei Schaffhausen, is attending Mary Washington and that she hopes to have a second one in 1971. Both of her daughters are Mary Washington graduates.

In desperation for news, I wrote to Louise Harwood Hedrick ('29) for some news about her sister, Mary Harwood Caldwell ('71). She wrote the following: Her husband, Millard F. Caldwell is Ex-Governor, Congressman, and Supreme Court Judge of Florida. He retired from the last office in 1969. They live in Tallahassee, Fla. on a large plantation "Harwood". It was opened for Garden Week, so that tells a little about the home. They have two daughters, Sally, Mrs. Fred McCord, who lives in Tallahassee, and Susan, Mrs. Robert Dodd of Lakeland, Fla. Sally has a daughter and a son. Susan has three children. Her husband is a doctor, M.D. in the Lakeland Hospital. Mary is an avid bridge player and enjoys all the social activities that Tallahassee has to offer. She has traveled extensively with Millard, but later enjoys their home and entertaining friends there. A clipping sent from the Society Editor, Pat Wright, has this to say of Mary's daughter, Sally: "The Le Moyne Art Foundation honors members of the Society Club Saturday evening. This year's party will be hosted by Fred and Sally McCord at their home on Belair. Invitations, printed on gray and white, gave a hint of the elegant evening in store for guests in the gray cypress home of the McCords. They will receive, along with past presidents of Le Moyne. The party is black tie, with champagne cocktails. Co-hosts for the party are Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Shuell, president of Le Moyne."

Louise Harwood Hedrick ('26) left the next day after writing to me for D.C. to visit her step daughter for a week. Louise has lived in Saluda since the death of her husband in 1957.

Nanette Goodman Francisco ('17) wrote 3/5/70 that she is 75 years old and still very active!

Rachel Messick Buchanan ('17) retired from Hargrave Military Academy last June after 13 very successful years as a teacher there. She has rejoined the Woman's Club of Lancaster County of which she is a Past Pres. having served as Pres. 1946-1949. She is a teacher in the Sunday School of the Irvington M. E. Church and still coaches high school students in developmental reading. She says she is enjoying her retirement to the fullest extent. Her youngest son, Vernon, and his puppy live with her in her comfortable Irvington home.

We had such a nice letter from Ruby Beasley Douglass that we wanted to share it with you:

Dear Alumnae,

First I want to say I enjoyed the Homecoming there so much last year but can not be there this year.

My husband is now retired and we are grateful to have very good health but busy. We find the days seem to be getting shorter, for we can't seem to finish all we plan to do.

Adeleide Billigley Van Lear lives within a few miles and keeps busy in her garden. She raises roses and chrysanthemums that are picturesque.

Ruby Brooking ran by for a little visit with the last summer. She seems younger and prettier since she has retired.

Celia Pearson Glasgow visited me last fall and was planning to go to Florida.

Grace Mason Snuggs is enjoying her children and grandchildren. S.C. Mr. Snuggs is in their good health at present.

I feel sure you have had a more recent report from those than I.

We now have eight grandchildren, and one married last summer, so we know the Lord has blessed us so many ways. Thanks for the school contacts.

Sincerely yours,
Ruby Beasley Douglass

The Class of 1926 was the largest one to finish four years of college at Mary Washington up to that time. There were twenty graduates receiving their college degree. They are listed here with the information which is available at present: Parke Anderson Fichet (Mrs. George), Wynne Island (Mrs. George), Mary Hunter (Mrs. George), Lucy Lewis (deceased), John Ruff Strohecker (Mrs. D. H.), Fredericksburg; Lily Mae Brooks, Newport News; Nettie Margaret Brooks, Bowling Green; Dorothy Chiles Horton (Mrs. John K.), Tuscaloosa, Ala.; Katherine Cousins Underwood, Oak Grove; Ruby Dudley Decker (Mrs. William C.), Richmond; Ruby Dratt Newman (Mrs. Hunter), Fredericksburg; Gladys Gray Liverman (Mrs. John), Woodford; Lucy Houston Christian (Mrs. F. C.), Urbanna; Mary Louise Jeter, Peninsula; Katherine Green (deceased); Elizabeth Harrison, Fredericksburg; Virginia Louise Stearns; Margaret Elizabeth Sutton, New York City; Ella Elizabeth Talley, (deceased); Frances Walker, Auburn; Frederick, Md.; Juliet Ware Parker, Dunnsville.

There were over one hundred students who finished the two-year course. Many of these went on for three degrees and are in the class of 1928 II anyone in the two year class of 1926 is interested in gathering information for that group, please get in touch with me. We will welcome news also from those listed above.

The Class of 1927 now can probably boast of some retirement, grandchildren and, perhaps, some great grandchildren.

One joyous note on retirement travel comes from Dulcie Graham, (Mildred Holland Williams Graham) who lives at 3165 Holmes Run Road, Falls Church, Virginia. She writes: Just got back from a fantastic trip abroad in our country in our Airstream. We had great weather all winter in places like El Paso, San Diego, Manhattan Beach, Palm Springs, Tucson, Death Valley, Yuma, etc. We came home through Reno for Mardi Gras and then around the Gulf Coast of Florida to a big Airstream Rally in Sarasota. Having just been at Disneyland in California for awhile, we were interested in seeing the progress of Florida Disney World. The work at Kissimmee has started and the big Disney opening is planned for 1971. Traveling is really great fun, so this summer we plan to take this same type trip across northern United States.

Do write the Alumnae Office report or most your plans, dreams, realities, so that your friends may know about you.

Two addresses received within recent months may be of interest to some of you, so they are being published herewith: Miss Elizabeth Gooch, 631 Terry Road, Suffolk, Va. 23434

Mrs. Kathryn Hastings Lashley, 635 South Main Street, Emporia, Va. 22427

If you know the address of any of the following members of our class, will you notify me or the Alumnae Office promptly. We have no information about their whereabouts, therefore they are not receiving any news of you or other classmates. Do help us find—

Such a lovely letter from Anna Bradley Wedwaldt that I wanted to share it with you:

Dear Reba—
There is no outstanding news from this sector.
After conferring a boat with the flu this winter, I flew to Miami during our spring recess to visit our younger son who is now a student at the University of Miami. I must say that this was exactly what this "elderly" teacher needed, my days were completely my own (not Reba's!).

Elder son, Albert, has just been awarded the chairmanship of the social studies department at Middlebury Union High School (Vermont). This is one of the better schools in the state, so my husband and I are most pleased.

We are planning to go to the White Mountains in N. H. in July with our younger son. Let, can join us there for a few days.
In early August, my husband and I hope to fly to the Canal Zone (Panama) to visit my sister and brother-in-law, as well as my 89-year-old mother.

Jaet Potter Cunningham, husband, and parents plan to spend the summer at a lake in southern Massachusetts; we hope to call on them between our two vacations.

Does anyone ever hear from Elva (Smith) Keenon. Class of '31? She and I were friends while still living in the Canal Zone but we have lost touch completely. She and her husband have lived in various countries in the past twenty years, so this lack of contact is not too surprising.

As you must have been, I was most disturbed to read of Mrs. Bushnell's death earlier this year. In spite of (or perhaps because of) her need for precision, she was one of my favorites. I still remember door-clanging in the dining hall—and a return by the culprit, to close the door quietly! (which never hurt anyone, I might add.)

Fortunately for me and for my students—no one questions the need for a certain amount of self-discipline. My youngsters have been angels; but, perhaps that is far par business education classes. Am I glad that I teach what I do!

Would you know if Mrs. B. Dodd (Dr. Dodd's wife) still lives in Fredericksburg? Should you attend the June festivities, would you be kind enough to investigate, via the directory? I believe Dr. Dodd died some time during the past year; I should like to write a note to Mrs. Dodd, who was also a former professor of mine, and a very talented one, by the way.

Thank you for reading all this rambling. Obviously, I still have pleasant memories of Fredericksburg!

Sincerely,
Anna Bradley Wedwaldt

Now is the time to start planning to come to the 35th reunion on April 16 and 17.

1971. Put it on your calendar right now, won't you, please! Remember the beauty of the campus at Springtime, and the friendships you made at college? You can renew them, and also meet many other interesting people. So we hope to see you there. You'll be cheering from us!

Michael Lambotte, the son of Dorothy Teese Lambotte, teaches 6th grade at Carver School, Newport News. This year he has served as president of the Newport News Education Association.

My father, Charles Nelson, died on March 15, 1970, at the age of 87. He fell and broke his hip on March 6, and seemed to be getting along pretty well after the operation. Heart failure set in early on Sunday, the 15th of March, and he died that afternoon. He was blessed with good health almost all his life, and enjoyed spending four winters in Florida at a retirement hotel. He was active up to the day he fell, and lived a long, useful life. I began thinking of my parents' sacrifices to send me to college. The following tribute to him was sent in a letter from his minister, Robert D. Goshorn, pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church, Newport News. This letter was so beautiful, and I thought it would be appropriate to put in the news. "Mr. Charles Nelson had a rarest constitution and simple faith that radiated spiritual confidence to all who knew him. It was not in expressions of public testimony, but in his ability to humbly pray and recite scripture as a plain portion of his personal life. He made his winners. I'm sure heaven is full of his kind of God's children."

For his many, full, independent, healthy years we are grateful. For ourselves another candle on earth is not burning and the darkness is there. Other candles will be lighted, but the glow from his we anticipate flickering from the breath of his deep resonant voice when we, too, cross over.

He loved this church. Your tribute honors the Christ he loved and honored."

Berice Whipple Camp wrote me the following letter: "I have been writing to you in my thoughts many times and tonight I am putting it on paper."

Yesterday my husband and I, who are wintering in Florida, attended the funeral service for our friend Mrs. Bushnell.

A few years ago, we stopped to see her in St. Petersburg. At that time she was busy being a "gray lady" in a hospital.

Four years ago she moved to Bradenton at the Manor and again we stopped to visit with her. She inspired both of us so much and we always left feeling so much richer.

This last December—a week before the holidays—she had a nice visit with her. She at the time was in the hospital section but still very alert in mind and was so interested in the outside world and the problems of our country. She was disturbed about the war and the loss of so many lives. Her eyesight was failing and her body was becoming weary after so many years of guiding girls in the Hill and at Moravian College. She wanted us to come back again but to wait until she was back in her own room at the Manor.

That time never came. She talked of her life and the near completion of it. She told us she would not see another Christmas for she was getting tired.

We read of her passing and attended the short service. My, how I wanted more girls of the Hill there.

Although she has left this world, her inspiration to all of us will last as long as we will be left until the last girl has passed thru the gates.

I spoke to one of the women at the Manor and her remarks were the same as all of ours: "She was such a grand lady!"

As for myself, after 27 years of teaching health and physical education, in a junior high school, I retired last year.

My husband also retired from work and this past winter, we left to come where no snow and ice would get us. We will be home for home.

Was sorry I didn't make our reunion but with my retirement at that time too I had too many irons in the fire.

Myrtle Hill O'Sullivan is most happy to have son Bobby home from Vietnam. She and Doris Slang Prudes shared their happiness recently. Doris's husband is able to sit down comfortably after five years of back trouble, pain, and operations.

Mary Helisebeck Townsend has been vacationing in Florida.

My second grandson, Robert Beverley Downing, arrived in April. Two weeks later we had a Downing reunion and all were present to welcome him into the clan.

In June Margaret Emerick Carter's third (of six) child will be married. She and her husband-to-be graduate from college on June 7th. Margaret is teaching commercial part-time.

Elizabeth CLOPTON Brown is married to a doctor in Gloucester. They have three daughters: Randy, a graduate of Sweet Briar, is married to a law student; Robin graduated from U. Va. in the history of architecture; and Cecilia is a junior at St. Margaret's School. Elizabeth and her husband plan to visit Hong Kong and Tokyo during the summer. Louisiana is lovely in summer, so to see us.

Adele Rosborough Thorpe was the subject of an article in a series in her local paper honoring outstanding citizens. Adelaide was acclaimed for her outstanding volunteer work among many charitable organizations. In addition, she received her local Chamber of Commerce trophy in 1969, as the Outstanding Woman of Brazosport (County) Texas. We are just now learning about this, Adelaide, but we are very proud to learn of this honor bestowed upon one of our class. The newspaper article on Adelaide and her family was such an interesting reading. I wish she could be with us at Homecoming.

The Thorpes live near Houston and have two daughters—one in graduate school at Brown University and the other at SMU in the fall. Adelaide writes that former MWC Prof. Harold Weiss, who now teaches at SMU, often speaks of his MWC days and would like to hear from some of his old friends. The Thorps had a memorable trip to Europe 5 years ago for their 25th anniversary.

Gay Smith Wood writes that she is a dietitian at St. Elizabeth's Hospital in D.C. And has been taking evening courses at the Univ. of Md. in Baltimore. She graduated from MWC in June, married in July and enters the Univ. of Md. Graduate School in Sept. Gail also writes that she feels excited about being a mother when she was in school. That's the way to beat the years!

Virginia Marshall Lewis is coming up from Birmingham for Homecoming. The Lewises have 2 children—the eldest in graduate school at Ga. Tech, and married with a little daughter. Another son is at the Univ. of Ala., and a lovely teenager at home.

Beulah Masan Evans can't be with us due to a graduation and wedding. Her second son is being married in the near future. And the new daughter-in-law graduates June 6.

Graduations will also keep Mary Lou Wilcox, Duit and Barbara Gaines away. Barbara's daughter graduates from Radford. Mary Lou's second daughter graduates from college June 6. Mary Lou has a part time job tutoring nursing students and has handicapped children—a job she loves. Bless her!

Frances Allwright has one daughter getting married and another is expecting a baby, so she can't spare her plans at the moment.

Eather Burruss Bailey lives in Louisiana where her husband owns a drug store. The Baileys have one son and two grandchildren. Esther taught for 22 years.

Louise Marshall Bennett's husband, after serving as pastor of Stukeley Hall Baptist Church in Richmond for over 19 years, has joined the Virginia Institute of Pastoral Care. In his new capacity, he serves as a full time pastoral counselor, organizes counseling centers throughout the state and conducts seminars for seminarians and pastors.

Marietta Laudrum Whitehead is a widow with 3 daughters and teaches at Falling Creek. Hope to see all of you June 6.

'43 Frances Wills Stevens (Mrs. James S. Jr.) 432 Oakland Drive Raleigh, North Carolina 27609

Harriet Tyler Miller (Mrs. Charles, 2413 East 4th Street, Bloomington, Indiana 47401) sent a grand letter. I couldn't bear to leave out any of it. Here is:

"Last year I received an M. A. degree in English from Indiana University and an updated teachers license from the State of Indiana. I frankly admit that it was due to my husband's prodding that I went back to the classroom. A good many years have passed since I received the Virginia teachers license and went off to a year of graduate study at the School of Education at Harvard University!

Truly, I enjoyed being back in college, and in some of the junior and senior high schools last year as a substitute teacher. At present the only teaching I am doing is as a volunteer teacher of English to six wives of foreign students as one activity of the local United Nations program.

This summer, at last, I shall be on the Staff for Hilltop Junior Gardening. This is an exciting summer recreation project shared jointly by the University Botany Dept., the County Park and Recreation Dept., and assisted by the Bloomingdale Garden Club, for children age 5-15.

Still active in League of Women Voters (Finance Chairman for 1970-71); in Church's Woman's Society and Council of churches (Chairman, Christian Social Relations).

Husband, Charles, is Instrument Maker (designer-builder) for Geology Department at the University.

Son, Stephen, is a junior there, majoring in Radio/Television.

Son, Donald, will be a freshman there in September, continuing his interest in stagecraft and design.

This has become a bit wordy—longer that I intended it to be, but perhaps some members of Class of 1943 will actually be interested in it. My inclination was to seal up my small donation and get it on its way. On second thought, I decided to write a paragraph or so (I) as long as I had the type writer, to make copies of my banana cake recipe to fill requests from four of my pupils."

Best wishes to all, Harriet T. Miller

And a second letter from Claire Moore Kelly.

"This is information from my family since the reunion in '68. Linda (23) married Richard Smith July 13, 1968. They have lived in Guatemala since Richard has been working on his F. H. D. in Anthropology. Linda is working on her masters in P. E. and is working on a project with the Indian and Spanish children testing their motor ability. They plan to be home in July, probably live in Santa Barbara.

Jayne (19) is going to the U. of Cal. at San Diego and is finishing her freshman year.

Scott (17) will graduate from Chatsworth High in June and plans to attend Purdue U. in Sept.

There is nothing new on Randy (25) and his wife, Kathy since '68. Randy had 4 years in the Air Force and is now working for RCA and going to La Fernando Valley State College.

We had visited Linda and Rick in Guatemala at Christmas time and also enjoyed Mexico on the way. We plan to go to Hawaii for a few weeks this summer.

We have moved from our large home into a condominium—still larger than what we really need, but we are enjoying it.

When are some of you coming out to visit in Ca.?"

Claire Moore Kelly
I'm waiting to hear from the rest of you.

Mary Elsie Gardiner Slarky wrote that she is married to the Supt. of Schools in Charles County and lives in Forest Park, Maryland with their seven children. She continues to teach, which should make her a rather busy person.

A snapshot of nine very handsome young people accompanied a note from Phyllis Quinby Anderson. The children are in various stages of education including college, art school and high school.

Virginia Shanks Carter wrote from Alexandria that her husband is stationed in Washington, D.C.—Her daughter, Candy, attended Mary Washington two years and will be commissioned in the Army Nurse Corps. Her son, Ray, will compete in the small Bore Rifle World Championship Competition in Arizona this summer.

A wonderfully interesting letter from Frances Tracy described her work with the Un-evangelized Fields Mission. I assume most of you are familiar with inland natives of South America as this was the letter's theme.

Gail Margen Kline is in Colorado, Calif. and Margaret Denny in Hawaii, H. I., following their return from Hawaii. I have their addresses as received from the Alumnae Office.

I expect to be in Chicago, Ill. for a meeting the first week in June, and hope to fit in a visit with Jane Brownlie Thomas and Roberta Kingston Dyer while I am there. I talked with Nancy Duval Andrew last week, hoping she might have additional news items. Come on classmates—keep me posted!

'45 Gloria Post Goodsell (Mrs. Roger) 415 Dorchester Tyler, Texas 75701

Most likely, by the time you read this, our 25th reunion have passed. My fervent hope is that the attendance was good and that all of us can say that it was a delightful experience.

Miss Clara Elizabeth (Betty) Walsh '45 sent a note saying that she had attended the 5th International Congress of Dietetics in Washington, D. C., and had visited Frederickburg. She remarked about the tremendous growth of the city and MWC. Those of you who have not visited this area in recent years would concur with her statement.

I must confess that on our trips from Texas to N. Y. to visit our families, even though the distance is longer by this route, the "ole bugaboo" just seems to head in the direction of the East coast so that we may see some of our dear friends in Virginia and ride through the campus of the college.

Weren't we fortunate to have had the experience of being students at MWC?

Susana Frances Vick Warren is teaching Spanish in Wilson, North Carolina city schools. They have two sons, George III, a sophomore at North Carolina State University and Francis, a junior in high school.

Janet Wrenley Mayberry and Lizny have four sons. The oldest will enter college this fall. Janice is a busy housewife.

Boris Pave (Husband Hines) lives in Louisiana and has two children, Chris and Karen. Her husband passed away about two years ago.

Marguerite Dameron Albert and husband, Mel, live with their family in Falls Church, Virginia. Marge is teaching.

Hamilton Ford Duncan and Fred live in Hamilton, Virginia, where Carolyn teaches in kindergarten. Daughter, Danette, is in college and Yvonne will soon go or may have started this year.

Elizabeth Stallings Sharpe and Coy have settled in Oklahoma. Coy has retired from the Navy. They have a son and daughter.

Betty Atkins Powers, Russell and their four children live in St. Paul, N.C. (about 18 miles south of Fayetteville). Betty teaches sixth grade. Hall will be a junior at N.C. State in Raleigh (engineering). Elizabeth will be a junior in high school; Janice will be a freshman; and David will enter fifth grade in the fall.

Betty Hildrup Morris and husband, Tom, live in Alexandria, Virginia with their two sons.

Ann Hildrup, Gordon and their children live in Chancellorsville, Virginia.

Jean Tillery Vest lost her husband in Viet Nam last November; her son is going to flying school.

Betty Jones Baskin, Sterling, Virginia. Betty's husband is practicing law in Falls Church, Virginia. Their son is a freshman at the University of Richmond and Beck, 16, is in high school.

May I, as your class agent, thank Betty Jones Baskin and Susana Frances Vick for sending interesting news about our '46 alumnae. Betty called me by phone and Susan sent a lengthy letter.

Ann Pernichett, Director of Alumnae Affairs, sent me the following information concerning the 25th Reunion. Homecoming 1971 and Reunions have been set April 16-18 at the college. This spring date rather than Commencement Week will enable us to have a better program.

The disadvantage is that alumnae will be asked to pay their lodging expenses and stay at area motels. All meals will be provided by the college. Do you want a private party for Friday or Saturday night? We must make arrangements now, so let me know. We could probably rent a banquet room at one of the local restaurants.

Please pass the above information to all our '46 graduates and let us know about your plans for coming next spring—Our 25th Reunion 1971.

Dee Ross is employed as elementary school supervisor in the Henrico County Schools, near Richmond.

Frances Ellis Graves of Vero Beach, Florida, visited in Richmond for Thanksgiving.

Betty Goodloe Evans and family are moving from Puerto Rico back to the states. Her husband will be airport Services Manager of Pan Am in Los Angeles. They have leaving Puerto Rico after living there for 7 years. In fact her son John plans to return there for his last year of high school. Her oldest son, Robert, is applying to Hampden Sydney.

Jeanne Farrington Leslie and 4 daughters visited Leona Hall Howard and family in Miami for several days at Easter time.

Alice Daniels is retired from her government job, with emphysema and asthma. She owns a house which she shares with a couple who are good friends.

Barbara Daniel Johnson reunited by phone with her 1945-46 roommate, Anne Pierce Showalter, while visiting her daughter in Richmond.

Mary Ann Godsey Little and her husband have three children (Amy, 9. Robert, Jr. "Rusty", 7. and Michael, 4. Her husband is a pharmacist with his own drug store.

Robert M. Hines is a member of the Jammed N.O.W., the National Organization for Women.

Jackie McConnell Berry has been married to Mr. Leslie Carlton Scarborough, Jr. We are very happy for her.

Sorry about the long time between notes of news. We are very excited at our home. Our older son, Richard, in Medical School at UVA, is marrying Miss Julie Weaver of Okla. June 27. Our younger son, John Ewing Balzer, is graduating from Ferguson High School in June. He will enter VPI in the fall. I'm a dietitian at Riverside Hospital here in Newport News. I've seen Margaret Kilian at Madison College during a summer seminar and dietetic conventions. She's at MCV.

Betty Carter Gribb, 916 State Road, Hinkley, Ohio is working at Sears. Clare Dugger Bruner's son John graduates UVA. In June, Frances Dugger Thayer and husband, Roy, have moved from Norfolk to Charlottesville, 2406 Peyton Dr. S. Wendell Clark S. Dorothy Day Riley is working at George Washington University Extension, Ft. Monroe, Va. She and daughter, Teresa, moved back to Newport News, 24 Stoddard Road, after her husband, Al, died in 1968.

I hope to get to Homecoming, June 5-7, to meet June Stoll Arunkal, visiting the USA from Istanbul, Turkey. She and her husband, Dr. Falsin Arunkal, are attending the 6th World Congress of Gynecology & Obstetrics in New York.

Marian Jones Pettit has moved to Pinney Point, Md. Hope she can make Homecoming. Eleanor Batchelor Smith writes that her twins are 11. She & Benny have recently remodeled their home at 2408 N. Upshur St., Arlington.

Marguerite Jennings Helbus and husband, Henry, continue their traveling ways. Their home base is Honolulu. They have traveled to Alaska, Hawaii, and the South Pacific. Jack Roep Suhli has married Herman L. Gruma and lives in Calicut, N. J. Leis Leith Brown is Coordinator of Special Education for the Prince William County Schools. Bette Flerkens Smith is stationed in Honolulu, 31 Mohalaipa Drive, with her husband, Admiral Spencer R. Smith & family. Jamie Redwood Witzel has run into Jo Lee Fleet Edwards '49. Both live in Wellesley, Mass.

Leone Magill Powell is Director of the Instrumental Materials Center for Handicapped Children and Youth for the Office of Public Instruction, State of Illinois. This is a project funded in part by the Bureau of Education for the Handicapped and is part of the national IMC network for handicapped children. Illinois, as Leone tells us, was the first state to have such a center mandated. This was started in 1967 although passed by the legislature in 1965. The interim was spent in planning. Leone also told us that she has four children of her own and two step-daughters.

Our 30th reunion will be April 16-18, 1971, at the college. This is a change in timing. Alumnae will be asked to pay their lodging at local motels. All meals will be provided by the college. We hope to get all reservations in the same motel so we can all be together. Let us know renewed friendships personally. I have received quite a bit of information from many of you and will try to spread your greetings and news through several columns, starting with those who could not be with us at reunion.

Pat Claud Dawson is living in High Point, N.C. and is presently employed as a teacher. She has two daughters, 13 and 11.

Allice Deeds of Ambler, Pa. regrets that she could not join us, but she had a trip to Moscow planned for the same date. She is a drafting specialist.

Joyce Miller Jelliffe is in Pasadena, Calif. and is also interested in a careerologist who is also an Assoc. Prof. of Medicine at USC. Joyce who has her B.S. in Nursing is now a housewife and mother of three girls and a boy. Joyce and Roger have traveled to Europe on business including Moscow and Leningrad, and they hope to go to Hawaii.

Living in Silver Spring, Md. Betty Miles Kohse is married to a sport shop owner and has two boys and a girl.

A nice note from Lucille Schoelcher Townsend revealed that she is in Terre Haute, Ind. where her husband is V.P. for Academic Affairs at Indiana State University. They also have commenced the week of reunion and makes her unable to come. Lucille has received her M.A. in pol. science and is active in Girl Scout work.

Also involved in college commencement work are Patsy and Eugene. Their family is living in Old Westbury, N.Y. and Glen is presently the Chancellor of Long Island Univ. They and their three children returned from Europe in May '98 and are enjoying the many aspects of country life in L.I., plus the easy access to Manhattan.

Janey Gardner Malley is in Darien, Conn. and has a boy and girl, 12 and 9 respectively. Sue and Bill have traveled to Europe. So, Ann and I have made our way to Europe. I make our 25th! Ann in Conn—Old Saybrook—is Ruth Maynard Nuhn who is now teaching 4th grade. She received her Masters in Elem. Ed. from Conn. State Univ.'s College in 1965. Husband, Charles, is in advertising and they have four children—boys and a girl.

Barbara Saul Baker is still in Dayton, Ohio and she has two children—Thompson, 10 and Francine, 8. She is active in PTA and Cubs. Also said they get to spend six weeks in Florida each year.

Ann Callis Ayler is a bus, "nursemaid, chauffeur, maid, etc." She is living in Newport News, Va. and has five children ranging from 16 to 2½. They vacation at Nags Head, N.C., and hope to have a cottage there. Ann and her husband attended the wedding of Grace Byard Brown, Jr. in May '98. Grace is now Mrs. Hyatt Brown, Jr. and her husband is the owner of a jewelry manufacturing business. They are living in Wynnewood, Pa. now, but are building a home near Ambler, Pa.

May Hamrick Pepper is in Hurley, N.Y. Sue and Sam have two daughters and a son. Their oldest daughter is a freshman at MWC. I do believe she is our first Alumnae daughter.

Received a nice note from Marilyn Bayre Kussling who is now in Tullahoma, Tenn. She has four girls and a boy—her youngest is a twin. Her husband, Dan, is a Lt. Colonel in the U.S. Air Force and is also a part time history professor. Marilyn says she is fascinated by the number of names that have run in the family. Her husband has spent at least part of their college years at MWC.

Ruth Weaver Regenold is in Elizabeth, Tenn., and is a local church member and a part time lab technician. She received her elem. and sec. teaching certification from E. Tenn. State Univ. in 1969. She has three boys and a girl. Husband, John, is a Medical Technologist at the local hospital.

Rewena Simpsom Rehn is living in Atlanta, Ga. and says they are forming an alumnae chapter. Rewena is Director of Adult Education at the Oak Grove Methodist Church. She has ten choir with help from an organist and an assistant. Their Youth Choir is 60 and they may make a spring tour. This year they expect to go to Tunk, Va. and Edwin, V.P. of Fulton Nat'l Bank. Have three children. Their oldest son, Trip, was a student president at MWC and hopes to attend Furman in the Fall. Rewena says they still love Georgia and living three blocks from the Emory campus. They enjoy the activities at the Univ.

Neil Jane Seesebe Reeves married a West-pointer who was killed. She married again, and her husband, a dentist, live in Arlington, Va. (near Washington and Dallas). Her enthusiasm for her family (They have 2 boys and 2 girls) positively pops out of her. One of their daughters is going to Europe this summer and preparations weren't near Jean from being at Homecoming. Neil gave her a tear from you.

We expect to see you at DOTS.
Barbara Ogden has worked as a buyer for J.L. Hudson Co., Detroit for most of the time since graduation. She is responsible for buying teenage wearing apparel for eleven stores. When? Her life sounds busy, for it includes serving as a guest lecturer at Wayne University, activity as a member of Pilot International. The Detroit Club has 145 members with inner-city children and un-wed mothers.) and extensive travel here and in Europe.

Will have more news next time. Thank you all for taking time to write!

I just had to quote from the letter from Garnette Bell Crawford. Such exciting news! "After almost eight years in Newark, Delaware, we are moving to Salisbury, Maryland in early July. This past year Norm has been Assistant Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences at the University of Delaware. He has had jobs in all phases of college administration, organization and tight undergraduate and graduate courses in education. Now he is moving on to become President of Salisbury State College as of July 1. I am proud of six college graduates from the College System. We have a house adjoining the campus that is partially furnished, a state car and the use of a sailboat among other things. I hope to have a house number, but after July 1 our address will be Camden Avenue, Salisbury, Maryland. If there are any MWC girls in the area or near the Eastern Shore, I would like to share a house number from there, especially from the classes of '2 and '32."

Hi Everybody!

Dad is back in the college Placement Bureau very kindly sent news of Jane Shirley Hollifield Alexander. She is living in Jackson, Mississippi where her husband, Donald H. Alexander, is District Manager for Federated Mutual Insurance Company. At present, Jane is staying at home with her two children Brandon Kay 14 and Ronald Foster 11. Donna is your niece. Many thanks, Donna, for your help in locating one of our missing persons.

Notes from alumnae fund letters tell us that Antoinette Miller and family moved to McLean, Virginia, in April, 1998. Husband, John, is a Navy Commander and is presently on tour duty in Washington, D.C. They have four children: Ricky 12, Ann 10, Martha 8, and Michael 3.

Lola Graf Reiser writes from Jersey City, New Jersey. Her husband, Robert, is a banker. They have two sons, Bobby 8 and David 20 months and were expecting a third child in April. How about some baby news, Lola!

Jeanne Rowell Callahan in Bristol, Tennessee has four children now, Anne 12, Bobby 11, Patricia 8, and Charles Patrick 18 months. Among the missing classmates are Grace Gunning Brhal, Nancy Pearce Daugherty, Pat Bainbridge Fisher, Frances Burwell DeHart, Antoinette Blacking Donovan, Florence Elizabeth Hester, Ester Mary Jacob, Carmela Osborne Jenkins, Mary Jean Gary Jones. Just send me a postcard if anyone knows where these people are now. The Alumnae Office is working hard trying to locate missing alumnae and they need all the help they can get.

A vacation trip to Florida will prevent me from attending. Nonetheless this year. However, I urge everyone in our class to attend if you have the chance. Visit the campus anytime and drop in at Spotswood, our Alumnae House. Meet Mary Jacob, Carmela Osborne Jenkins, Mary Jean Gary Jones. You may care to leave with the staff in

Dear Friends,

(As we go to press, our reunion is a month from now—so all the news gathered at our 15th will be in the next issue of Alumnae News.) Sue Redell Albee is back living in Va.—2½ years in Crystal Springs, Va. Sue is stationed in Norfolk and is on the Atlantic Fleet Staff. Their lovely children are Rich (14), Ann (12), Steve (9) and Christopher (4). Nice to hear from you! Sue! Also a nice note from Gretchen Hogaboorn Fisher—2240 Windward Shore Drive, Va. Beach, who is still doing a little nautical teaching, running her big home with five active children and enjoying their boat with Skip as captain. The family plan to spend most of June vacationing with her parents in St. Mary's City, Md. Her Dad is head of the commission in charge of the reconstruction/preservation of what's left of the site of the 17th century trading post. The Smithsonian is "digging up" and the Fishers have been invited to assist—what fun!

Ginay Maree Hancock sent along a lengthy "newsletter" that was shared a few months ago through the "nursing" column. Our class member, Maureen Hawkins is living in Richmond now—Stumped Union Theological Seminary and Fran is doing part-time nursing. Their children are Karen (12), Ricky (10), Patsy (8) and Leigh (4). They're living in a three story mansion, which was the former president's home and enjoying the new life. They have six years Mickey Arrington St. Clair keeps herself busy with community and church activities—plus trying to get along with her mother-in-law, Mary and Mickey New to San Francisco, Hawaii, Las Vegas and New York last year. She enjoyed every minute! Mickey, her mother and her doctress husband live in Fla. Their Pat is in Jr. High, Laura is a second grader, Bill is a first grader and the state's youngest. So go on to near about you Dottie, thank about you often—as well as all the other classmates who left to go to UVA and to the other states. For instance—Kae Elquist Brown and Dan are the proud parents of their children (4 boys and a girl). Dan's practice is going well and he's still in the church work garden club, Girl Scouts and church work when her busy family permits such activities. Great to hear about you, Kae. You lost a very busy life! Are your studies prospering this year? Barbara Gill Beeman and her doctor husband have five children. I saw Barbara, Tom (12), and Bill (6), and John (10) make up their happy home. Robbie is living in Minn. You two former roommates (Kae and Bobbie) are still in the same rooming house. Your families together—would love to have a picture of this someday.

Mildred Cronin is serving the Elston, Inc. (div. of Johnson & Johnson) as Product Nurse Consultant—in N. Brunswick, N.J. Her major function is giving an O.R. nurse the major responsibility of training and to take new ideas in materials and packaging in the U.S. for opinions in actual use situations. She thoroughly enjoys her work and her non-hospital working environment. Sister Orrville and Harry have Dave (Jr. High), Larry (6), Allen (4) and Trinka (3) to keep them busy with their sports, scouting and musical interests. Laura is active in League of Women Voters and church activities—Harry finds time to manage a Little League team and he's also in the club for the Black Hills. They are in Rapid City—Harry is still fascinated with his work and has some very interesting situations.

Polly Harpless Burns and Jim live on the west coast with their children—Pam (9), Jimmy (5) and John (3). Polly keeps busy with her family, social and community projects, but mostly her family. She's been most of her time—which the thrives on. Jim keeps up a steady pace with his job, home projects and family. Also included was a letter from Ginny's are brief items about Em Coleman Chapman, Nancy "Nicks" Callaway, Ann Turner Gray, Maydene Hoback Young, Betty Thompson Hoback, Sarah Nindley Woody, and Sally Reardon Hiaz. Let's hear from you—some recent news girls! Thanks!!!

Ginny (Mrs. M. E.) Kleinawest of San Mateo, Cal. (263 W 1st Ave.) with his handsome and healthy three year old, Gregory. Mike enjoys his interesting work with IBM and finds time to work on his master's degree in Industrial Engineering, home projects, scouting and woodworking. Ginny represented MWC last year at the Sacramento State. They are of their new President. She was thrilled to march in the academic procession with cap/gownhood—along with over 300 other reps. I've seen many of the alumnae and friends find time for the La Leche League, garden club and a fabulous choral group. Many thanks for sending along your newsletter, with all the interesting information! It was great of you to think of us and share it with us. I hope all of you "nurses" who keep us posted, too. We really want to hear from you!

I attended the Westchester-Fairfield County MWC Alumnae Chapin luncheon in May at St. Michaels Church in Westchester. It was a marvelous affair and just wonderful to share such a nice time with familiar alumnae and friends. I enjoyed the luncheon very much and talked with Ann "Miss" Hungerford McKinlay—Ann and Dick have moved to their lovely new home on 247 N. Ridge St., Port Chester, N.Y. (10573). I met her and her big, new home settled and taking each room at a time. Ann was lucky to have her mother-in-law with her to help with the organization of packing, etc. and enjoy a long visit before returning to Mississippi in June. Great to see "Miss" again!

Don't be talking to you again—don't forget to send along your news so that we can share it with the classmates who have been sending in their news this past year. We all love to read each other's news and you are included—so let's hear from you next year! Have a pleasant summer day, be good to yourself and have a great vacation. Best regards to all.

Quick! Mark this date on your calendar—April 16, 17, and 18, 1991. This Homecoming is a 3 day reunion. Note it will be in the spring of 1991 about when Commencement Weekend as in past years. The Homecoming Chairman will be elected July 1 and plans to start making plans fall swing then. Remember the date, and let's see if we can all make plans to be there.

Jackie Williams Upth has been located after a sixteen year absence—hooray! She and John (Cornell '46) were married in 1964. They lived in Cleveland for a year, then San Juan, Puerto Rico for two years, and then (Baltimore, Penn.) where they lived last three years. They have one child, a boy, born in February. Before her marriage, Jackie worked in Maryland and suburban Maryland. She was married and transferred to the University at North Carolina after her sophomore year, thus one reason that I lost track. They own a farm on Maryland's Eastern Shore and have been there for their free time, and sail the Sassafras River.

Barbara Kowalyn is now Assistant Director of Public Relations for Howell, Shays and Associates, an architectural and engineering firm in Philadelphia. She has also embarked on a new venture, that of interior design. She started out decorating the apartment of a friend, who recommended her to a decorator, friend, and now she's off and busy. Good luck, gal!

Sandra Cuthrie Pittman and Gary moved to Yorktown Heights, New York with three boys in March. Sandra would like to get in touch with classmates living in the Peekskill, White Plains, and New York area. She is married, lives in a nice home, and has herself a fun get together, and then write and tell me all the news.

Cathy Dick Ray and Bill are in Fort Collins, Colorado with their three boys, Bill, 10, John 8, and Tom 7. Hubby Bill is with Hewlett-Packard in nearby Loveland. They are camping enthusiasts and enjoyed a trip to Mesa Verde, over three year old daughter, an animal raised their food supply, and they all got soaked to the skin. Cathy hears from Anna Petto Molitor in Yakima, Washington; Pat Watz Moore in Catonsville, Maryland; Laura Miller Bealey in Oakville, Virginia; and Barbara Harrell Franklin in Cleveland, Tennessee. Addresses, please pals, and let's hear from you.

Sonie Berke Grabberger got together for lunch at her house with Barbara Wyg Birdsong and Marion Cuthrie Hines, her fresh and sophisticated roommates, both from Suffolk. They were accompanied by their pre-teen daughters, Pat Deet Baynes and her baby boy, and Louise Hannelman Bowman and three of her children also came. The children all have their own cars. Sonie has a 10 year old daughter, while the mommies caught up on news of friends past and present.

Jeanette Carrell Rothrock and lawyer husband Tom live in Fairfax County with their boys Jefferson 8, and Bradley 7. After graduation Jeanette worked four and a half years as a secretary for the Fairfax Juvenile and Domestic Relations Court. She obtained a third year of graduate work in education several years ago and is now teaching third grade. They are developing more and more into a family and are looking forward to Tom's active in politics and community affairs.

Correne "Corky" Slater Gray, hubby Dick, and son, David 5, are here in San Diego. Corky has been teaching for five years in the third grade gifted program at McDowell Elementary School of Union City, California. She is also vice-president of the San Diego Chapter of Alpha Delta Kappa, a money internal educational education sorority. Dick is a teacher of sixth grade at Ocean Beach Elementary, also in the San Diego City Schools. He is writing his thesis on the history of the city and keeps in touch with Marilyn Platt Goodlett in River Vale, New Jersey, and with Mickey Foley McDaniel in Scottsdale, Arizona.

Congratulations to Mary Linda Fitchett Addison on her recent marriage to William David Elliott. She and Dave are living in Eastville, and to Mary Gale Buchanan in their new marriage to Parker Matthal in Washington, D.C. Parker is from Baltimore, and a Yale graduate. He is an architect, and a partner in the architectural firm of H. H. H. and H. H. H. After a honeymoon on Parker's thirty foot sleep out of Annapolis they will be living in Owins Mills (a suburb of Baltimore). Two classmates are visiting with Barbara Kowalek and Barbara Strangman Donovan.

The Foxes have a change of news since the last issue. Kerry is no longer in private practice with the firm in Los Angeles. As of April 1 (no Joolin!) she is now the president of Corporate Counsel for Travelodge International, Inc., with headquarters in El Cajon, California, which is about ten minutes from here. We're all very happy about this job change.

At the suggestion of a classmate, I have prepared a list of gals by geographical location (cities and states) who the alumni association will be sending out to each of you for whom we have current addresses, to assist you in getting together for fun. I have also included a list of gals who ask you to send me names and addresses of these you know. Four hundred "lost" gals must be a record! I'd like to pass on an up-to-date name and address file to the next issue. I would love to have 4 gals who are willing to be candidates for the election. Isn't that great? Many thanks, ladies, and you'll be hearing from me soon. Another thing I'd like to do after you send me new addresses for lost classmates is to type up a new roster, a copy of which the association will send to each of you, and to whom we have addresses. Won't you please help?

Editor's note: A last-minute address by way of a letter from Ann Ford Humphries just couldn't be left out. She says, "Tell Hermie, 'hi.' Ann's husband, David, is an orthopedic surgeon. We gather he is no longer in the military service. Ann did say, counting the residing, she spent eleven years with the Army, including three years in Germany. We bet they have lots of memories. The Humphries live in Charlotte, N.C. with three children (Sally, 11½; David Scott, Jr. 10; and Stuart 7, 6 months). Her closing comment was 'I'm a homemaker with lots of extra curricular,' and we guess she probably is busy as can be.

Not much news this time!! I'd hear from two classmates so here goes—Mary Frances Pierce Burton writes that they are now living in Rochester, Minnesota, where Tom is with Flotronics. They make medical equipment. The Burtons have three children ages 11, 8, and 6. The only person Mary Frances has seen is Nancy Moore Cavin when she was on her way to vacation in Northern Minnesota. Then I received a long letter from Marion Olzak Patten better known as "Tootie." Tootie was with two years and then went to Penn State. She is now married and lives in a small town, Albion, Pa. where her husband, Glen, teaches and Tootie is Director of Guidance. They have two boys age 6 and 2. She writes the following news: Evelyn Weste Nordstrand and husband Roy, have just adopted a second child Jeffery. They have a daughter Susan and live in Glen Rock, New Jersey.

Barbara Mason Carter lives in Roanoke, Virginia and teaches elementary school.

Kli Johnson is (or was) teaching music in Ann Arbor, Michigan. Let's hear from you, Kli!

That reminds me—several of our classmates are among the missing. If anyone knows the whereabouts of the following, please let me know. We want to keep our records up to date! Here goes—Mary Cathey Alexander, Laura Babayan, Bonnie McCracken Dana, Betty Jane Ruby, Gene Beebe, Astair Lodgegard Clough, Mary Lamb Belknap Thomas, age 14, and Kirk Damp 8 months. Mary Whitford. There's more but space won't permit me to go on. I'll add some more next time.

Let's hear from everyone!

Heio, We have a very short column this time. Geoe Hart Smallwood sent news from Roanoke. Her husband, Tom, is Director of Personnel at First National Exchange Bank of Virginia. They now have two children, Ellen Thomas, age 14, and Kirk Damp 8 months. Susannah Godlove has been working in St. Louis, Mo. as a psychiatric social worker since 1968. In April she vacationed in Accapula, lucky girl!

Heles Theophilus Stassinios writes that she and Jim have finally settled in one place long enough to buy a house. They are now in Springfield, a suburb of Washington, D.C. Jim is in his 7th year with the Justice Department. Their son, Odysseus Steve, is now 5½ and is in kindergarten. Elizabeth Diane is one of those active 24's out there. Helen says she is enjoying being a fulltime homemaker, but may return to teaching when Elizabeth reaches college.

My sympathy to you class! I would like to express our sympathy to Helen. Her father, Charles G. Theophilus of Newport News, passed away on December 29.

As you can tell from the birth column, Anne Bell Norris and I are busy changing diapers. Mary was born on February 29 so at the present time butterflies are the biggest thing in her life. Her two sisters have spoiled her rotten. Anne offered some relief to the all-girl situation. Bill arrived on April 20. He also has two sisters.

The Alumnae Office has asked if I would like to locate many of our missing classmates. I have issued the names. If any of you have an address, please send it on a postal card. Patricia Alvis Ahrens, Yvonne Lewis Alexander, Betty Ann Aldridge Baker, Irene Case Baker, Roseanne B. Barnett, Elizabeth Foster Brandy, Roseanne Lee Hatch Bowden, Marjorie Boyles, Berolice Eugene Brogden, and Claudia Brown.

Yipee! It's vacation time! Now, it's the mamas turn to entertain! And here's some entertaining news of our class—

Note from Jane Tucker Broadbooks, Jon Karl is at that age—he is a wonderful companion. The Broadbooks did find time to visit their family in Florida. Jane has also completed her interior decorating course. Carter Brydon Moore sent the happy news of the birth of her second girl in June named Taylor. Maunon Carrara Raphaelly and family are settled in a new home in Cherry Hill, N.J. Russ is on the staff of the Children's Hospital in Philadelphia as a pediatric anesthesiologist. Chris is in kindergarten now and Jim attends nursery school several times a week. Marianne has been elected President of the Dr.'s Wives of Children's Hospital. And for fun, the family has been taking skating lessons.

Priscilla Brown Wardlaw said they really had a cold winter and she's really thankful it's "thawing out" for her and her two little "dynamos". Julia Coates Littlefield writes they're moving. They are returning to Gotham State College where Mo has become an assistant of education. Julia said that Shirley Maundlin Overman is teaching art in the Summerville S.C. public schools. Sally Withers Bell brought us up to date on herself and her two daughters, Erica and Kimberly. Sally is teaching 7th and 8th grades in Redwood City, California, which is just south of San Francisco. And she and Gloria Winslow Borden had a letter, she included news of Ruth Osterman Butson, who is teaching in Charlottesville. Dorinda Osterman Anderson is in San Diego and has two wonderful boys. Sally is looking forward to making a trip back East this summer, hopefully.

Nancy Parley works as the Catalog Librarian at Eastern Pa. Psychiatric Institute in Phila.

Murrah! Marete Spence Harrison is so excited about their new adopted daughter, Blair, and speak of double blessings, Marci is expecting in September! While awaiting the great day, Marcia has become active in local politics, as well as being active in her community and is the Fellowship Chairman for the AAUW. Bill has been active with his practice and as External Vice Pres. of Annapolis Jaycees. In the baby department, Barbara Garden Organ announced the birth of their son, Christopher born in November. After Jim's tour of duty is over they plan to head toward Charleston, South Carolina. And Gloria Winslow Borden had a girl, Cynthia Lee, born in July. Her family managed a trip to Virginia for the marriage of Gloria's sister, but it was slightly marred by the children's car accident. Gloria said she saw Betty Jane Smith Komp and her husband. They have two girls and are stationed in Patuxent River. Md. Gloria is in the middle of a divorce. She is stationed in the Long Beach Naval Shipyard.

Girls, would you believe that's all the news I have! Fraid so. Know you're busy with all those wonderful families. My condolences to those who have lost loved ones though watch out summer! So whenever you have a moment, just drop a line on a postcard. No big news from this end. As I write this, only two more years to go! My husband's father passed away suddenly last week and this has been a difficult time. But there's always a smile on my face when I recognize a letter from a MWC girl in the mail—let me hear from you.

Love,
"Eddie"

Hi Gals,

Andy, Elaine, and I have just returned (May 10) from a three-week vacation in Greece and we are delirious with the fact that spring has indeed come to Delaware, as well as Greece! The fields of red poppies are in bloom and wild flowers are blooming all over Greece, along with the greenness of the grass and trees was a refreshing change from previous visits in the summer when everything is brown. It's a different sort of spring from the lovely one at MWC but beautiful nevertheless. We noticed that parents in Thessaloniki and then went south to Rhodes for a week and Athens for two days. It was great fun to have Elaine and I have some common ground with a bitter child, and of course the grand-parents loved her. We're settling down now to our summer activities and are also looking forward to December when we will add a new baby to the family!

Now for other news, "Mouse" Messier Whithers has provided a new address for my column with a great letter while living in Northridge, Calif. 91323. Lassen Street, 218, where she is now Marketing Manager of his company Judy LaFoe. Have moved to the Los Angeles area from San Jose, California. August and I were together regularly with the Whitmores. Judy has three children. Tracy 7, Mike 5, and Susan 3. "Mouse" has two girls, Lisa 2 and Janette 3. Judy moved into the Whitmores' house for four days with her family so Bill and "Mouse" could go to Las Vegas where they had a party. The first vacation where he is now. They had hoped to recapitulate 30 Judy and Dan could get away, but Dan was transferred to a new assignment and he, her, they hope to return to Calif. in two years. Judy's new address is 1880 Winchester Trail, Atlanta, Ga. 30341.

My friend, "Mouse" from Garden Grove, Calif., where they recently moved into a new home. She and John have a new baby, a girl, named Susan. They had dinner date in March. Denby Stigley Powe, Judy's former roomie, lives in Columbia, S.C. with her family of three children. She plans to visit me in July. Judy Hare in Atlanta sometimes Denby reported that Gloria Laughlin Klinger just had a second child, second girl, "Spookie", as they fondly called her. She was married our junior year to Charlie—they'd love to hear from you. "Spookie"

Christmas cards brought "Mouse" a lot of news—Peggy Hebert Mallier (62) is at Camp Pendleton with Dave and her two children. Judy Townsend (63) is 58! I love mother's summer, so her father is moving from West Orange, N.J. to North Carolina in a house near Judy's. "Mouse" lives next door to each other in West Orange. Sue Ramey Green (63) and Tom just purchased a pharmacy in Chesapeake, Va. Sue left teaching and now helps Tom at the pharmacy where they are very busy. Sue is staying in L. Mary Carson Hitchcock and Ed live in Fairfax County. Susan has two daughters, Gay Gamble Reinhr and Al have two daughters now. Sybil Smith Stratford, Conn., for the Shakespearean Festival. I am assuming she survived such a pleasant experience. Carol Anne Schumacher Jensen '66 is teaching physical education at the University of Akron in Akron, Ohio and is married to a former high school classmate of Eileen.

Carolee Ramsey is teaching in a private girls' school in Charleston, South Carolina.

Barbara Waster is living in Shaker Heights, Ohio, where she arranges summer study groups to Europe.

Jean Marie Thomas '69 is out here in a grad school with a Ph.D. in English. She has a residence hall—studying medieval and Renaissance history. With both of us really trying, we'll make MWC notorious out here you.

That's all the news for now. Please let me hear from some of you guys!

Bobbie

Hope that all of you have been having good summer. Ours has been rather un-settling, but rewarding with the acquisition of our "first house." Even after weeks of work, boxes are still in the middle of being unpacked and the agenda includes England, France, Switzerland, Germany, Austria, Italy and Greece. A real dream-come-true! Sissy Gay Lynch and her camera went on a trip to Europe last month.

How about vacations? Any recent, wonderful ones? What about near-future plans? I would love to hear about them. Julia "Penny" Wheatcroft Waters and Bobby should have some fine tales to tell before long. They are leaving for Europe on September 1st, and the agenda includes England, France, Switzerland, Germany, Austria, Italy and Greece. A real dream-come-true! and it certainly does make writing this a lot easier. Kay Bowling sent news from Chapel Hill, North Carolina. She graduated with a master's in Elementary Education in February and is now Mrs. John Anderson. He's an architect and city planner, working in Silver Spring, Maryland. She sent word that Charlotte Smith is in Charlottesville, working on her Ph.D. Jim and Lea Hecox White are civilians again and living in Atlanta where Jim is a stockbroker with Merrill Lynch. Last year Anna Freddy shared an apartment with me. She's finishing her master's in the vocational rehabilitation counseling and doing her internship at Eastern State Hospital in Williamsburg.

Some last-minute "arrivals" in the way of news just had to be included. Barbara Stevenson and Brenda Ann Quick are both teaching—Brenda has a first grade class in Charleston and Barbara teaches Spanish at Prince George's High School.

Dana Sharpe Massaro wrote to say that she and Tony are living in Philadelphia (7021 N. Marshall St., B107), where he is the shipping department for a testing mill. Dana has been teaching junior high school science and this summer will begin work on a master's degree. In her "spare" time, she is doing volunteer work for the Earth Week Committee on ecological problems in the Philadelphia area. Dana sent news of Trine Muxalits, who married Martin L. Ruppberg in June of 1976. She and Rod spent 6 months in Valdivia, Chile, and are now stationed in Havelock, N.C. (16 Taylor St.). Best news of all is that they are expecting an addition to the family in September.

Mary James (now Mrs. Paul Wright) has been teaching in MWC's Drama Department since May. Mary received her M. A. from Northwestern last June, married Paul in July and returned to MWC in September. Now she says it looks like they'll be moving again at the end of the summer. She is doing volunteer work for the Earth Week Committee on ecological problems in the Philadelphia area. Bethieps for the next couple of years.

Eloise Bell has called me several times from Norfolk where she is teaching high school math. She is engaged to Tom Sloan, an old friend of Johnnie and me whom she met at our wedding. No date has yet been set for the wedding.

Quite a few of our old classmates have found their way back into the classroom as teachers. Pam Hogan is teaching ninth grade English in the Norfolk area. She is the same school I taught in until we moved out here. Laura Te Jebousa and Martha Davis are also teaching in Virginia Beach. Pam Selden and Joa Stevens are teaching in Newport News.

Linda Thomas is presently teaching high school math and taking night courses at MWC.

Evelyn Rowe (Evie) writes that she is enrolled in a Ph.D. program in French Literature at Cornell University. We all wish her luck.

Mary Baulware Campbell is starting graduate courses at California State in Long Beach this June. Her husband John is now a Lt. J. in the Navy.

I know that many more of you are involved in pursuits which would interest the rest of the class. It can get awfully lonely out here on the west coast without a few letters from home territory. Please drop me a note and let me know what's been going on with you. I'll do my best to pass on your information to the rest of the Class of '69. Write me at least once a year from wherever you are in the Q-G group. Keep that news coming.

Gail

We just had to add a few notes. A special congratulations to Ruth Ann Siegel Myers, who was married May 2, 1979 in Atlanta, Georgia. She is now a medical technologist at the Roanoke Memorial Hospital. Hopefully Carol Ann Greenwood has been able to uncross her fingers by now. She was waiting to hear about a position teaching high school government in Richmond. This summer she plans to work in Va. Beach as a cocktail waitress which she calls a "much-needed change" after especially sixth graders at Natural Bridge for a year. Really, though, it sounds as if she loved her job.

Martha Wilbourne sent a long letter. She switched from a job with a computer firm to teaching. Now she hopes to work for IBM or with an airline. She is living with her husband in Blair, Nebraska, near Woodward. She also told us that Jean Whitte Mason is in Indianapolis as well as expecting a baby tomorrow. Barbara Hopcia Redd has been working for the telephone company in Charlottesville while her husband finishes his work at the School of Engineering.

The agents for the Class of 1970 are listed above with the addresses the Alumnae Association has for them. If you have a cup of coffee or a coke and sit down now with a pencil or pen to write a bit of news to one of them. It's the way this column gets going. The letters following their names are an alphabetical division of the class by last name at the time of graduation. That way, if you have a letter to write, you can keep track of some particular people. Don't forget now—let them a few notes and be sure to pass on your new address if you move for your own sake if you marry.)

Hi all! Can you believe that it's been almost one full year since we graduated from MWC and entered the "real" world? So many changes have taken place since we were still in high school.

My own news is that I have returned from Viet Nam in November and we are now situated in Tacoma, Washington, for the next year or so. Johnnie is still sergeant now and I'm working in the claims department of an insurance company.

Cecilia was married in August, '69, to Bill Riffert. They are living in Norfolk where Bill is a submarine. Norma Jean Turbineville was also married on June 9, 1969, to Lynn F. Payne. They are living in Frederickburg until Lynn's term in the Army is over. Norma is teaching the third grade.

Sincerely, Judy

Dear Classmates,

I apologize for the fact that my last column was not printed in the Alumnae Bulletin. Many of you wrote to me expressing your sorrow over the death of Lynn Ruby and I tried to pass it on but it must have not reached the office by the deadline.

At this time I have many cheerful news. Things are in a state of upheaval for Bill and me. Bill graduates from George Washington University with a master's degree in Public Administration in June and we are currently looking for a job. The thing that makes it a little sticky is that we have already bought a house here in the Washington area. It will be increased by one as of late July. With our luck that will probably mean that the job bill gets will take us to Cora Falls, Idaho!

I have received letters from many of you

The Alumnae Association has at long last embarked on what may prove ultimately to be one of its most critical undertakings—a search for some 8,000 to 9,000 alumnae “missing” from the files. Such a vast project must be considered long range, but the Association, realizing that it can never prove “ruly” an effective organization without accurate records, seeks the assistance of the more than 9,000 alumnae whose names and addresses are on file, present members of the College community—both faculty and students—parents and friends to assist in providing appropriate information. Below is a partial list of some of the “lost.” If you know the whereabouts of any of these—or any others—please contact:
